The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

The Compatibility Issue

Discord, which crept into the open at the September 7 meeting of the Lemon Grove City Council after an article concerning the mayor appeared in a neighboring (El Cajon) newspaper, should be ended quickly if participants are genuinely concerned with serving Lemon Grove citizens.

In the article, Councilman Jack Doherty, in concert with Lemon Grove School Board member David Spisak, had volunteered statements that made it appear that Mayor Jim Dorman was serving on the school board illegally by also serving on the City council.

First, occupying two such positions as Dorman does is not illegal per se. The holding of 2 offices alone cannot be challenged on the basis of illegality. There is a philosophy of incompatibility when one seat being held holds domain over another. For example, if a presiding judge were also the prosecutor, that would be illegal on the face of it. This does not appear to be a likely simile in Dorman's situation.

In the newspaper article, Doherty charged that Dorman is "deliberately flaunting the law and he's only fooling himself if he thinks he is doing a good job for both positions."

This is not only untrue but Dorman may consider it to be libelous. Doherty may find it convenient to retract that statement. In a note Monday to Dorman and other councilmen, Doherty claimed the statement was lifted out of context.

The question as to why Doherty involved himself in school board matters is still unanswered although this editor asked him that question several times in a conference Friday.

He said that if Dorman's school board votes were to be invalidated — on a school bid, for example — it would create a serious problem. "Whether he believes it or not, he's violating the law and when he realizes it he may want to alter his plans."

"The doctrine of incompatibility is not a conflict of interest issue," he said, "but it is an issue that should be resolved." He admitted that it might take considerable time to do so in face of the fact that Dorman's school board term expires next year.

His reasoning for presenting his opinion to the press in advance of making it a school board or council meeting item was that "I believe the press should know about issues in the discussion stage. I believe reporters should be given information on complex issues ahead of time so that that are able to place events in perspective.

"I wanted to clear the air the easiest way. I was asking the question, 'Is it strictly legal?' "

The question was asked again. "One of my jobs at the PD is keeping my officers out of trouble. Some of that was in my thinking as I researched the doctrine of incompatibility," he replied. Doherty is a PD legal affairs specialist.

He said the El Cajon reporter had agreed to hold the story until after the next school board meeting when trustees would be asked to request a decision from county counsel or the attorney general. "The story was released prematurely but it is essentially correct," he said.

David Spisak, a SD PD research department lieutenant explaining his position in the matter said in a conference Thursday that a somewhat similar case in Sonoma County had been decided as incompatible and I decided that "the issue ought to be raised before citizens get upset and raise the issue themselves.

"I'm concerned with the legality of actions the school board might take if the matter isn't resolved. I thought in good faith I was handling the matter discreetly with the intent of averting a split on the board."

"Then why handle it through the press?" he was asked.

"I had told a reporter that my remarks were off the record until the next school board meeting when I would have had a chance to discuss it with Jim (Dorman) and he agreed. Then he printed what I told him in confidence," Spisak said.

Dorman admits holding dual posts takes considerable time. "But much of my time is now spent talking to the press and interested people about the foolish incompatibity matter. It is important that I defend myself against baseless allegations. I could spend the time wasted on this by better serving my community as my father did," he said.

"Serving the community is traditional in our family. In spite of giving less time to my profession (law), and to my family (wife and 3 children), I am satisfied that my service is useful to those I serve and satisfying to me.

"I gave up the chairmanship of the area United Way campaign; an office in the L.G. Lions club (he is past president) and cut back on my hobbies (hunting and fishing) to give adequate representation.

"My directorship on the L.G. Fire Protection District ends November 1 when the district is absorbed by the city. I had planned not to seek re-election on the school board next year when my term expires only because I had seen the board through its most trying times.

"But the decision on what board I serve will be my own. I am not being encouraged to leave under pressure of non-issues. I have done my research in the compatibility matter. If I were convinced the offices were not compatible I would have resolved that long before now," he said.

This newspaper asked a question of Spisak and Doherty having to do with a strong rumor presently afloat: "Is it true that there is an attempt to shake Dorman off the school board so that a replacement more agreeable to your philosophy could be appointed?" It is said that one other school board member is already slightly tilted to that position.

Both answered a categorical "no."

Dorman's statement regarding family tradition carries strong credibility and can easily be checked in the columns of the local newspaper over the past 3 decades.

Vroman J. Dorman, father of attorney Jim and medical doctor John, served the Lemon Grove school board for 7 years beginning in 1945. One of the important problems he resolved was sewers. L.G. schools were on cesspools and septic tanks and they were overflowing. Research of school law said schools could not form sanitation districts — yet sewers were vital. He learned that the county board of supervisors was sitting on a war-time "rainy day" fund. He convinced the supervisors to release some of the money to create a sanitation district. He raised the money needed by the community by collecting prehookup fees from the residents who would later connect to the system.

Then, he wrote a "sweetheart contract" for the L.G. Sanitation District with the City of San Diego in which the S.D. sewer use-rate was embarrassingly low. Local residents are still profiting by that low rate and it runs to the year of 2000.

WRECKAGE — Just to the right of the tree in the foreground is what is left of the Rambler which was the bomb which exploded Friday while the bodies of two Mongol bikemen were lying in state in Conrad's Lemon Grove Mortuary. Damage to the area was extensive but only 2 persons were injured — they being guards for the Mongol organization.

Bomb Blast Warns Cyclists

By Max Goodwin

Almost directly across the street where he had his security device firm and where his wife operated Lemon Grove's massage parlor, Emerson (Redbeard) Morris lay in state Friday in Conrad's Lemon Grove Mortuary.

Morris, 29, had been shot down as he and his wife, Dolores (Dee) were traveling south on Interstate 15 in Encinitas as they were returning on Labor Day from a weekend outing in the Kern River area. They were riding a motorcycle. He was wearing the emblem of the Mongol Motorcycle club.

On another motorcycle was Mongol member Raymond (Jingles) L. Smith, 36, of El Cajon and his wife, Diane. Smith died later at Palomar hospital. Diane suffered burns when a bullet exploded the vehicle's battery. She was treated at the hospital and released.

Mrs. Morris, partially paralized, was in intensive care at Palomar Hospital Friday afternoon when an explosion rocked Conrad's Mortuary at 7387 Broadway in Lemon Grove.

It did no damage to the Morrises business enterprises at 3420 Harris st. It blew out windows in the mortuary building, damaged several autos, hurled debris a block away and maimed one Mongol guard.

The explosion occurred at 3:14 p.m. in the mortuary's parking lot when a man, about 30, drove a what is believed to have been a 15-year old Rambler into the southeast corner of the mortuary's property, leaving the car's engine running while he delivered a bouquet of red and white carnations to the mortuary.

He presented the flowers at the rear door to the Conrad's apartment and was escorted to the bier. He left by the front door where he was reportedly picked up by another auto.

A minute later the explosion came. The Rambler was the time bomb apparently rigged to kill or injure mourning Mongol members.

Shooting Scene

Morris, who once told this reporter that he was secretary of the Mongols club, died almost instantly in the Labor Day shooting. His wife was hit in the lower spine by a bullet. Police were of the opinion that the sniper had sprayed the couples with bullets from an automatic rifle of the M16 type.

Word had gone out to Mongol members that the bodies of Morris and Smith could be viewed 1-9 p.m. Friday with services and a motorcycle cavacade scheduled for 10 a.m. Saturday. A spokesman said 200-300 Mongols and their associates were expected for the burial ceremonies. Less than a half dozen were at the mortuary when the explosion occurred.

Task Force Meeting

One reason for a small turnout Friday was that the motorcycle club leaders were meeting with the Biker Task Force in San Diego. The force is an amalgam of S.D. Police, CHP officers and sheriff's deputies. A Mongol spokesman said the meeting was to avert a confrontation with police when members grouped to view the body and when the cavalcade rode in force from the mortuary to Mt. Hope Cemetery.

A Mongol spokesman had requested this newspaper to tell local sheriff's deputies that the affair was highly solemn and that they could expect no trouble from Mongol membership. "If any comes it will be from outsiders," the spokesman said.

Only 5 or 6 motorcycles were near the mortuary when the blast occurred. Two were damaged slightly.

The driver of the Rambler passed two Mongol guards — William (Big Red) Lowery, 28, of El Cajon and James Canning, 24, of Santee — who suspected nothing because the Rambler's engine was left running. Lowery was blown from an auto in which he was seated and is in Grossmont Hospital with fractured ribs and abrasions. Canning, a non-Mongol member, lost a finger in the blast. He was treated at Grossmont Hospital and released. Police said that the guards had a .45 cal. automatic pistol and shotgun.

The Flower Man

Gary Conrad, son of Mrs. Marian Conrad, owner of the mortuary, said that he had been warned not to accept flowers if they were red and white (Hell's Angels colors) but he recalled the warning as the delivery man left. The flower bearer was described as having shoulder-length dark hair, a beard and wearing sunglasses, a grey suit and white gloves.

The vehicle in which the explosive charge and triggering device was placed had been driven to a far corner of the parking lot. A high concrete-block wall and a garage formed two sides forcing the explosive force upward. Even so, parts of the vehicle were found a block away. Two motorcycles owned by mourners were damaged slightly. The blast wrecked a camper, severely damaged the mortuary's limousine and a hearse parked behind closed doors of the facility's garage.

The blast broke most of the windows on the parking lot side of the mortuary but hunks of metal were strewn over a wide area to the west of the site.

Youngsters of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Conrad, watching television in an apartment in the mortuary, were unhurt but were narrowly missed by a 5-pound rock blown through the window by the blast.

Officers quickly sealed off the area Friday until it was learned that the bouquet did not contain a bomb as it was first feared.

Bodies Moved

Conrad also asked police to supervise the immediate removal for burial of the two slain men who were to have lain in state Saturday morning. The burial was originally scheduled for Saturday

Contract Adopted by Teachers

The Lemon Grove Teachers Association have ratified a new two year contract with the Lemon Grove School District which will give them a five percent pay increase and some additional benefits.

The teachers met Tuesday to tabulate their agreement with the contract arbitrated between the District and the teachers. The contract took about five months to write.

In Tuesday night's meeting of the Lemon Grove School District Board of Trustees the formal signing of the document took place between the Board and the teachers, led by Association President Barbara Brockhouse.

After presenting the contract to Board members for signature Dr. Robert Sutton, Superintendent, told the teachers, "We thank everyone for where we are today. There are many districts trying to accomplish the very thing we completed today and we appreciate what you have done.

"I would like to especially thank the Association. It was a good experience and I think it is a fair contract."

Echoing Dr. Sutton's comments was Lemon Grove Teachers Association President Barbara Brockhouse.

"I think the contract is fair to both sides," said Mrs. Brockhouse. "We (the district and the Teachers Association) have started to work together and I am pleased we have this relationship.

"We seem to be able to implement the law without a lot of the controversy which surrounds other school districts."

The contract also added an additional line in the salary scale for teachers with a bachelor's degree and 75 units.

The salary scale is determined by the number of college credits teachers collect. 45 units equals approximately one year of college work.

Also in the works is a feasibility study on "factoring."

According to Association President Brockhouse, the system rates children into class sizes more suitable to their particular needs. The system was recently implemented in Lodi, California.

Added Judge Likely In El Cajon—Wilson

State Senator Bob Wilson D-La Mesa) announced that his legislation adding one new judge to the El Cajon Municipal Court, has been passed by both the Assembly and the Senate. The measure now goes to the Governor for final action.

Wilson said, "The City of El Cajon has experienced a highly unusual rate of growth, and congestion in the El Cajon judicial system has become acute. Senate Bill 982 will help to ease this problem."

Wilson's measure is supported by the San Diego County Board of Supervisors.

Weed Abatement now Law; Council Raps Doherty Charge

The business of the City of Lemon Grove — and of politics — gets under way again Monday night at the L.G. Education Center at 7:30.

The September meeting was an adjourned one of August 15. The first meeting in September would have been on Labor Day. To avert a formal change requiring notices sent to all interested parties, council simply adjourned the August 15 meeting until September 7. And regularly scheduled meeting will be held on the dates established — the first and third Mondays of each month.

In the September 7 meeting the council instructed the city attorney to draft an anti-obscenity ordinance with a definition of obscenity in it.

A weed abatement ordinance, complete with "teeth" for enforcement was approved unanimously and becomes effective in 30 days of passage. It can cost non-compliance property owners a $50 fine or the city can have the property cleaned and the cost becomes a lien against the property.

An ordinance concerning the acquisition of a city manager was approved. Councilman Jack Doherty provided council members with a profile (guide) by which applicants for the post could be measured. Selection of the manager is now scheduled for early November. Mayor Jim Dorman and Mayor pro-tem Bob Burns changed some of the language in the profile and gave it to temporary city clerk Maggie Reilly.

The council approved a County Planning Organization proposal to include Lemon Grove in a waste treatment management program.

Dr. Burns discussed park and recreation functions and problems — then volunteered to establish a recreation and human services committee to lay groundwork for a park and recreation district in the event one is established. He also proposed that a P&R calendar be established.

Sheriff's Capt. George Dodson responding to an inquiry regarding Restructuring of the Law Enforcement Administration said a new location for the Sheriff's L.G. office may depend on the police protection policy developed by the City of Lemon Grove next year.

Dodson said he is attending an FBI school for 2 months and Lt. Douglas Clements would be in charge of the office during his absence.

Councilman Dale Bailey showed a copy of an El Cajon newspaper in which councilman Jack Doherty and school board member Dave Spisak (both employed by the S.D. Police Department) claimed that it was not proper for Mayor Jim Dorman to serve as councilman and as a school trustee.

Councilman Bailey said he was embarrassed and personally disturbed by the politically motivated charge (by Doherty). He said Doherty has said that he wanted to run for

There's An Answer

By Mr. and Mrs. Norman Vincent Peale

Indecisive and Sick

Q. A guy who asked me to marry him told me he loved me very much, but there is something in me which tells me that I don't love him.

There's also another part which says I do love him.

I don't know what to do about it.

I wish I could get some advice soon — because it's making me sick and upset. He also says he will wait for me and won't go out with anyone else.

I'm confused.

A. You are too panicky; cool it.

If one part tells you that you love this fellow and one part says you do not, you shouuld listen to the second part.

If you do not know for sure, with all your heart, that you love him — then it naturally follows that you don't really.

He is foolish for waiting. He had better get himself a girl who really loves him, and who knows that she does.

We have a booklet, "How To Make Right Decisions," which has helped others with questions such as yours, and a copy of it is on its way to you. Anyone reading this column who wishes a free copy may write to us at Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564.

Tied down by dependent dog

Q. I have a small dog, eight years old, who has been my constant companion since he was a tiny puppy.

I have been his only companion.

Due to the fact that he will not make up with anyone else and will not eat while I'm away, I have been unable to take any trips out of town or take vacations.

I live alone and am retired due to health problems.

I face a stay in the hospital in the very near future and would in time like to visit my relatives out of town.

I have thought of having him put to sleep, both for his sake and mine.

However, I feel guilt-ridden to even think of it.

Is it a sin to destroy life? Will God hold me accountable?

I love this dog and have spent much time and money on its care, but I am so confused. Can you help me?

A. A dog, with its complete devotion to and considerable dependence upon its master, can really get a hold on your heart. Frequently, without realizing it, the master becomes the slave and the dog becomes the master.

We think you have allowed this to happen to you.

We feel you need to assert yourself more in your life.

Had you sincerely wanted to go on trips and take vacations out of town, we believe you would have found a way to take the dog along, since you say he is only a small dog.

You could have found someone who would show him special kindness and patience in coaxing him to eat and survive your absence.

We suggest that you find such a person, or a suitable boarding kennel.

Try this rather than thinking of putting this nice little dog to sleep.

Jealous husband doesn't work

Q. It's been seven months since my husband worked.

I'm working and always have. I support him and our daughters, aged 16 and 15.

He is 60 years old and diabetic. I'm 40 and we've been married 19 years.

My problem is that he is jealous, yet is never home.

He leaves the house at 7 a.m. and returns sometime between 10 p.m. and 2 a.m.

I love my husband, but I don't think he loves me. I'm very lonely and alive. What can I do?

A. The fact that your husband is a diabetic is no excuse for his abdication of responsibility for supporting a wife and two daughters.

If you husband is never at home from early morning until late at night or early the next morning, this obviously indicates that he isn't very interested in his family.

You are the one who must let him know what you expect from him. If he doesn't change and you want to continue putting up with this situation, find interest of your own.

Live your own life and above all do not perpetually agitate yourself about an irresponsible spouse.

Grossmont Community College District's Office of Community Education will offer two new development courses in the Lemon Grove area.

A class titled "Coping Effectively" will be offered from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. on six Thursdays beginning today. The class is held in the Ben Polak Fine Arts Center, 8035 University ave., La Mesa.

"Parent and Child: Improving the Relationship" will be offered from 7 to 9 p.m. on four consecutive Tuesdays beginning Tuesday. Class is held in the Monterey Heights Community School, 7550 Canton drive, Lemon Grove.

Both classes are free and registration is during the first class meeting.

Local Districts Adopt Free Lunch Program Scales

Two area school districts have released their schedules for free and reduced price meals and milk for the 1977-78 school year.

Adopting identical scales were both the Lemon Grove School District and the Grossmont Union High School District.

The scales adopted were those recommended by state education department officials and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The scales for both districts allow a family of four to make $634 per month or $7,610 a year maximum to qualify for the free lunch program.

Reduced price lunches allow that same family of four to have a monthly gross income of $7,611 to $11,880 to still qualify for the program.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Assistant Secretary, Carol Tucker Foreman said this week the USDA had to make a cash payment of $34,848,000 nationwide for the free and reduced price lunch programs due to a lack of community donations.

Get Tough Graduation Requirements Headed Toward Area School Districts

SACRAMENTO — High school and unified school districts in California have until June 1978 to adopt minimum proficiency standards in reading, writing and computation.

On the basis of these standards, districts must assess student proficiency before awarding high school diplomas after June 1980.

David W. Gordon, assistant chief, Office of Program Evaluation and Research, California State Department of Education, explained in a recent interview the mandate is set forth in Assembly Bill 3408, enacted in September 1976.

The intent of the law is to ensure that every student graduating from high school in California has sufficient ability in reading comprehension, writing and computation to function adequately in the real world.

Students entering 9th grade this year will be the first ones who will be required to pass the assessment to get a high school diploma, Gordon said. But they, and the students who follow will have ample opportunity to do so.

The law requires that student proficiency be assessed at least once in the 7th through 9th grades, and at least twice in the 10th and 11th grades. There is no maximum number of tries a district can offer a student.

Students who meet the district's proficiency standard at the first assessment will not be reassessed. For those who fail, the law requires:

- A conference between an educator, the student and his or her parent.
- Appropriate instruction for the student, provided by the district, to improve the skills the assessments revealed as needing improvement.

Although the law requires school board to adopt standards in the three basic skills of reading, writing and math, it also permits local districts to include minimum proficiency standards in other courses

"The intent of this law," Gordon said, "is not to make it harder to graduate. Rather, it's to ensure that our public education system is providing students with the basic skills they'll need as adults.

"The assessment process," he continued, "is simply a means of verifying that they have the skills; if they don't the law requires that additional instruction be provided to improve their skills."

Another part of the law which is receiving less attention than the graduation standards sections, opens new avenues of education opportunity for all students.

The present law governing completion of high school requires that students complete prescribed courses in English American history, government, math, science and physical education before they can graduate, Gordon said.

The new law still includes these requirements, but it also opens a door for flexibility by requiring district to adopt "alternative means for students to complete the prescribed course of study . . ."

As "alternative means of completion", it list the following: "practical demonstration of skills and competencies, work experience or other outside school experience, interdisciplinary study, independent study and credit earned at post-secondary institutions."

Active involvement of parents, administrators, teachers and students is required as district develop the "alternative means of completion" they will offer their students, Gordon said.

The excitement and color of Germany's world-famous Oktoberfest come to La Mesa Friday and Saturday, September 30 and October 1, as part of the La Mesa Downtown Businesmen's Assn's 14th annual sidewalk sale.

On the outdoor stage at Palm and Lemon will be performances by dancers from the German-American Club in native costumes, and dancing to the oom-pah-pah music of the Bavarian Beer Garden Band.

German refreshments such as bratwurst and sauerkraut, pretzels, and streudel will be available.

The parade, starting at 11 a.m. on Saturday, will be led off by La Mesa Mayor Paul Fordem and Miss La Mesa, Laura Autry, who has been named Miss Oktoberfest.

Also appearing in the parade will be Miss Lemon Grove, Charlie Gunderson, the Helix High School Highlander band, Carrol Penning's marching baton corps, the Helix German-American Club on bicycles, clowns, and antique cars.

Dr. Charles Newman will direct. Nine performances of the play will be given over three consecutive weekends beginning November 4.

This Week's RECIPE

Strawberry Pie

In France they are les fraises, in Italy le Fragole, in Germany die erdberren. We call them strawberries and, at the peak of perfection, they are truly special eating.

STRAWBERRY PIE

- 1 package (3 oz.) strawberry or strawberry-banana flavor gelatin
- 1⅔ cups boiling water
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 container (4½ oz.) frozen whipped topping, thawed
- Few drops red food coloring (optional)
- 1 baked 9-inch graham cracker crumb crust or pie shell, cooled
- 1½ cups halved fresh strawberries

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water; measure ½ cup and chill until slightly thickened.

Fold thickened gelatin and sugar into the whipped topping; add food coloring.

Chill again, if necessary, until mixture will mound.

Line bottom and sides of crumb crust with the whipped topping mixture, mounding high around edge. Chill.

Meantime, chill remaining gelatin until thickened; stir in strawberries. Spoon into the whipped topping lined crust without covering the rim around the edge.

Chill until firm, at least 3 hours.

Kings, Canucks In Hockey Play At Arena Oct. 1

National Hockey League action comes to San Diego for the first time in five years when the L.A. Kings meet the Vancouver Canucks in a preseason encounter at the San Diego Sports Arena Saturday, October 1st at 8 p.m.

The Kings, led by superstars Marcel Dionne and Rogie Vachon along with hit-man Dave "The Hammer" Schultz, face the Canucks who are led by former Minnesota Fighting Saints star Mike Walton, veteran goalie Cesare Maniago and controversial face-off expert Derek Sanderson.

Tickets, priced at $4.50, $5.50, and $6.50 go on sale at the San Diego Sports Arena Box Office, Sports Arena ticket agencies Monday. A $1.50 discount for servicemen and youths under 18 years of age is available on all price ranges.

"We have tried to keep ticket prices for this pre-season game within reach of everyone's pocket book," said Kings General Manager George Maguire. "Our top price of $6.50 is $1 less than the former S.D. Mariners charged.

"San Diego has a good hockey base and we hope our visit can rekindle some of the hockey mania that has existed there in the past."

Top Coaches To Be Feted In San Diego

An annual weekend honoring the nation's top college football players and sponsored by Eastman Kodak Co. will again be held in San Diego during early December.

The Kodak All-America Team, selected by the American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) will visit San Diego December 2-4 and will be honored at the Sheraton Harbor Island Hotel.

The original All-America team was first named in 1889 by Yale's Walter Camp. Seventeen years ago, Kodak and the AFCA combined to select and sponsor its successor, considered by many as the most prestigious of college football's honor roll teams.

Kodak is involved in the activity with the nation's coaches because of the close relationship between photography and coaching. The increasing use of photography comprises a critical part of most successful football coaching programs.

TAKE FIVE

by John E. Wirges

The NFL exhibition season is over, kids are back in school and college football has all the wise guys quoting odds and making strange bets, but baseball is still hanging on and making noises worthy of attention.

The Padres are home for their last session of the season and they face a full test of what the West is all about.

True, the Los Angeles Dodgers ain't on the schedule, but everyone else in the West is visiting and from such exposure comes the promise for next year.

Atlanta is in tonight (Thursday) and then Houston hurries the weekend for a pair of single games. Pete Rose and the Cincinnati Reds (not the pinks) follow on Tuesday of next week after the Padres take a rare weekend off. Then San Francisco closes out the season at home for the Padres, leaving just one short trip to finish out the year.

And chances are, the Padres will finish right where they are at this writing, solidly based in fifth place in the Western Division. So what?

Think again, friend. The so what could be mighty big. So this has been a "building" year. "And haven't they all been that," you say? Perhaps, but not like 1977, thank you. The difference this campaign, and the results should bear it out, the Padres have been building with talent that figured to be around for a few pennant years.

Begin with pitching, or the infield, or the outfield or whatever and you'll find solid front line players.

The bench is one of the few weak spots and Manager Alvin Dark has a few "names" to offer President E. J. "Buzzie" Bavasi as "trade bait" during the winter meetings.

You never can tell how Dark will figure it, but on the surface one would be close to reality if he thought Dave Roberts was to be listed as the number one catcher.

Pitchers pitch when he's behind the plate. He gives his mound crew a low target and loads of confidence. And his hitting hasn't been that far off.

The year of development has done wonders for shortstop Bill Almon and almost as much for second baseman Mike Champion. Almon has shown great range and a strong arm.

Champion, too, has added range to the Padre infield, and his bat shows signs of constant improvement. Both are probably glad to get their freshman year out of the way. They needed the experience. And if they can make this kind of impression on their first try, think how smooth and sweet they'll be next campaign when they hit and run and laugh and play with confidence.

It would be hard to improve anywhere in the outfield. George Hendrick is among the leaders in the National League batting race, Dave Winfield is establishing himself as one of the premier outfielders in the game and Gene Richards might develop into the best of the three with a bit more experience. With his bat control and speed, Richards is almost and cinch to be the next 100 bases thief.

Dark, pitching coach Roger Craig and Roberts have worked to rebuild a pitching staff of more substance than mere promise. Bob Shirley and Bob Owchinko have established themselves in the knowledge of opposing players are a pair of tough moundsmiths. Not an easy thing for rookies to do.

Randy Jones seems to be over his arm problems, thanks to a display of guts that made him work it out this year rather than rest and worry all winter. It was his plan and it is his victory. And, he says, he's ready.

If Dave Freisleben can keep his weight down over the winter, the Padres will field a starting four next spring that could post 80 wins between them.

And relief corps is going to be great when you start off with Rollie Fingers, Dan Spillner and Dave Tomlin. You'll have to be good to move 'em.

Mike Ivie doesn't want to play third and $-million reliever Gene Tenace doesn't seem to fit in Dark's catching plans. It could be that either or both fit Dark's trade plans. Only time will tell. In the meantime, catch 'em this weekend or next week for sure. You'll be seeing most of next year's club.

USD Spikers at State

University of S.D. head volleyball coach John Martin (USD record 38-11) embarks on his third and most challenging season this week, as the Torero women travel to San Diego State Saturday night for a 7:30 match.

John Martin led the Toreros to a fourth place finish in the AIAW Small College National Championship in 1976.

There are no less than nine games against major college competition during the 1977 season.

Despite the schedule being USD's best ever, six of last year's eight lettermen return making this a veteran squad. Included in the group of lettermen are USD's two-time Most Valuable Player, Becky Carnes. Becky, a 6-0 JE, midblocker, from Fountain Valley and Lisa Roach, who made AIAW all-west coast in 1976.

Toreros to Host Redlands Sat.

Coming off a narrow loss to the No. 1 team in the NAIA Cal Lutheran College (25-17), the University of San Diego Torero football team hosts the No. 2 team in the NAIA rankings this week, as the University of Redlands visits the USD Football Stadium, Saturday night with kickoff at 7:30 p.m.

It is Redlands (9-1) opening game.

Buldog offense includes runningback Dave D' Arcangelo, 5-9, SR, and two-time all-American wide receiver Brian de Roo, 6-3, SR. The Bulldogs have 33 returning lettermen.

USD head coach Bill Williams commended newcomer Jim Valenzuela on his first starting assignment as a Torero quarterback, "I think Jim did just a super job against Cal Lutheran. He ran our offense very well and it kept him for being sacked prior to getting off his passes."

Saturday is also Youth Football Night at USD, with any youth team accompanied by a paying coach being admitted free to the game. The only request is that all youth teams arrive at the stadium prior to 7:00 p.m.

Souped-Up Chargers Guests Of Superbowl XI Champs Sun.

San Diego Charger head coach Tommy Prothro is about as optimistic as any of us can remember him regarding his 1977 team.

With a 4-2 record, who blames him?

Considering that many of the gladiators in Sunday's game were rookies, the team not only look well-improved but, equally important there is excitement in their play.

"All the preparations are over," said Prothro. "We start next week. I don't know if we're ready to go up and blow Oakland off the field and there were a lot of things I wasn't particularly happy about, but I think we had a fine summer. We improved in quite a few areas. We've added a few players who have helped us and we're a year older."

So much for the schooling. Now for the test.

The Charger meet the Oakland Raiders in the Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum Sunday in the National Football League opener. Kickoff is 1 p.m.

The game which matches American Football Conference West rivals marks the first time in the teams' 18-year histories they have played each other in a regular season opener. At least the teams are even at the start. John Madden, Raider head coach, also boasts a 4-2 pre-season record.

The Raiders are defending Super Bowl XI champs. The Chargers finished third with a 6-8 season.

Sunday's game will be televised on TV 39 with Jim Simpson and Merlin Olsen calling. The radio description will be on KSDO (1130) with Jerry Gross and John DeMott. Air action starts at 10:50 with Pat Curran's NFL weekend followed by Charger Talk at 11 with Bob Chandler and Bruce Walton. The Prothro Show goes on at 12:35 and game preview at 12:50.

Rickey Young led the Chargers in six preseason games with a 3.0 average for 54 rushing attempts; 3 scored 3 touchdowns; Charlie Joiner caught 16 passes for a 16.3 average and 2 touchdowns; Johnny Rodgers caught 13 passes for a 16.6 average and 3 touchdowns.

James Harris completed 50 of 87 passes for 678 yards and 7 touchdowns. Harris started and played almost all of Chargers victories over San Francisco, the New York Giants, and Los Angeles.

He played the first offensive series of a 35-7 loss to Oakland and played one quarter of the 38-20 victory over Seattle.

Harris did not play in the opening 34-14 loss to Dallas. Jeff West averaged 38.7 yards for 41 punts with 4 touchbacks and 8 inside the opponents' 20-yard line; Joe Washington averaged 13.9 yards for 11 punt returns with 1 touchdown and Clarence Williams averaged 23.4 yards for 12 kickoff returns.

For Oakland, Mark Van Eeghen had a 37-yard average with 3 touchdowns in 69 rushing attempts; Dave Casper caught 19 passes for a 14.5 average and 3 touchdowns; Ken Stabler completed 46 of 79 passes for 599 yards and 4 touchdowns; Ray Guy averaged 40.7 yards for 34 punts, with 8 touchbacks and 8 kicks inside the opponents' 20-yard line; Lester Hayes averaged 31.5 yards for 4 kickoff returns and Neal Colzie averaged 9.5 yards for 8 punt returns.

James Harris played the first quarter and completed 7 of 9 passes for 113 yards and 1 touchdown in the victory over Seattle. Bill Munson played the second and third quarters and completed 13 of 19 passes for 147 yards and a touchdown. Running back Rickey Young scored three touchdowns in the first half and wide receiver Charlie Joiner caught 5 passes for 89 yards and a touchdown. The Chargers amassed 355 yards total offense.

Showdown Near For S.V. Racer At S. Bay Oval

Ken Snelling's winning ways at South Bay Park Speedway 117 has to be making current championship points-leader John Cartwright of Spring Valley a bit edgy.

The Bonita blitzer will be shooting for his 8th straight and attempt to make it 12 for 12 Friday night when the supers and street stocks share another twin bill. Trials for the supers start around 7 p.m. and the first race is set to go off at 8:30 p.m.

Although Cartwright managed a fourth in last week's super stock feature, Snellings triumph brought him past Jim Pavlick of Spring Valley into second spot in the South Bay Racing Assn. standings and only 190 points behind the leader.

The program will include trophy dashes and heats for each division with the street stocks traveling 20 laps in their feature and supers going 30. As an added attraction, 10 ladies have signed up to participate in a Powder Puff 10-lapper.

Also, a lucky fan may get his big break. Should he draw the right number, he'll have a chance to do battle in the street stock main.

Outdoors & Travel

By E. L. "Buck" Rogers

Here's a family vacation which most of you haven't thought of.

I said "family" because it's an exciting jaunt for the kids, offers enough relaxation for adults who get tired of keeping up, and is priced within budget reach of durn near all of us.

I'm talking about a whitewater float trip on one of our western rivers.

Outfitter A. C. Ekker, met our group in Grand Junction, Colorado, and transported us by private aircraft to a put-in spot on the nearby Green River. With me was a fellow writer who knows more about fishin' than I do, and a couple of Braniff airline executives who shared our taste for wilderness adventure. With our wives rounding out the party, we had a family sized group of eight.

At a spot called Rock Creek we boarded two large inflated rafts and spent the next three days floating down this stream to the town of Green River. On the way we had a number of experiences which will make this one of the most memorable adventures of my life.

The Rapids

"Running the rapids" is the featured attraction of a trip like this, and even with a big rapid around almost every bend there is no shortage of whitewater thrills. In this part of the country the canyons are deep, and the big boulders and sheer rock walls shoulder the force of the river into plunging chutes which tossed our unsinkable craft around like ping pong balls in an air tunnel. All of us got a mite wet, and the gals did a little screaming. But the whole trip was safer than crossing a busy city street. If you'd add a little spray to a roller coaster ride and stretch it out for a few miles, you'd have the general idea.

Nights were spent nestled in a sleeping bag, watching a flickering camp fire, and listening to a lonesome coyote or two. Accommodations are first class.

Big Breakfast

The same situation applies to the grub on this trip. When we rolled out of our sleeping bags in the morning there was a big cowboy breakfast waiting for us. Lunch was a salad and sandwich affair on a sand bar further downstream. Dinner featured hor d'ouvres, steak grilled over the fire, and wine. In between there was all the beer and soft drinks a feller could drink.

The scenery on this float would make the average banker aspire to be a poet, and frequent stops offer an opportunity to view Indian rock paintings, and historical sites made famous by such desperados as Butch Cassidy and his Sundance Kid sidekick. There is trout fishing in the feeder streams, and all the catfish a man can catch in the main river.

But one of the most attractive features of this adventure is the price. For example, Outlaw Trails offers an all-inclusive two-day trip for only $95 per person. A five-day float is priced at $285. Both packages include everything but your toothbrush.

Powder Puff Crown May Be Decided Sat.

Saturday night when the popular racing machines roar back into action on the 3/8 mile paved oval, the 1977 Powder Puff champion will be crowned at the ladies hold their Grand Prix.

Defending champion Barbara Baxter of El Cajon has a 310 point lead over her nearest rival Holly Stahl of National City and seems to be odds-in-favorite for the title. The two ladies have won all the previous powder puff races this year with Mrs. Baxter having four wins in six outings.

The ladies 10-lap race is only part of the 9-race card on the track. The men will be battling in eight racing events with a 40-lap main event highlighting the evening. The action gets underway at 8 p.m.

With only 2 races left, a 3-way battle is being waged for third place between Ed Hale, Gary Crossland and Ron Esau. Easu won last week's finale to close on his two fellow Lakeside rivals.

Esau's tally of 1725 points places him only 160 points back of Hale. A win with a maximum of 245 points going to the winner Saturday night, none of the three is secure in his position.

Qualify runs will start things off at 6:30 with the traditional 4-lap trophy dash being the first racing event at 8 p.m.

Padres Home Shootout Is for 4th Place Finish

The battle for the 1977 National League Western Division title may already have been decided in favor of the Los Angelers Dodgers, but the battle for spots three, four and five still rages on between the Houston Astros, San Francisco Giants and, of course, the San Diego Padres.

The key for the Padres in their drive for a first division finish or at least to catch San Francisco for fourth place, is the fact that San Diego has 10 of its final 15 games on the schedule in the friendly confines of San Diego Stadium. Maybe more important is the fact that of those 10, five of them are against the main opposition, Houston and San Francisco.

San Diego will finish out a short two-game series with the Atlanta Braves tonight at 7 p.m. to set the stage for a big-two-game shootout with the Houston Astros, Friday and Saturday. Both contests with the Astros are slated for 7 p.m. starts.

The Padres then get something of a break as they will be idle on Sunday and Monday, September 18-19 in preparation for their final six home games of the season versus the two-time defending World Champion Cincinnati Reds September 20-21-22 and then, lastly, the San Francisco Giants, September 23-24-25.

As for the games with the Reds, the opening two tilts are set for 7 p.m. with the series finale on Thursday set as the final Business Special of the season. Game time for that one will be 1 p.m. instead of the normal weekday starting time of 7 p.m. The three games with the Giants will follow the same basic format as the first two games will be as 7 p.m. with the season home finale penciled in for 1 p.m. on Sunday, September 25.

"These games coming down the stretch are really doubly important to us," remarked Padre manager Alvin Dark. "Not only are we striving to catch up with Houston and San Francisco for a better final finish, but we would like to wrap up the season on a high note. It makes a big difference to everyone concerned to go out a winner and not have to sit around all winter brooding about stumbling in the last few games of the year."

While the Padres will be playing 10 of their final 15 outings in San Diego, the actual final five contests will all be on the road as the club will be in Cincinnati for two games September 27-28 and then in San Francisco for the wrapup September 30 and October 1-2.

Unused Ticket Night

The Padres will close out their short two-game series with the Atlanta Braves tonight by holding their annual Unusued Ticket Night event.

Fans who have reserved, unused paid tickets remaining from any previous games this season may exchange them for tickets of equal value for this game. The exchanges may be made at the game tonight.

Aztecs, Arizona Saturday Game On ABC-TV Game

S.D. State U. will be in the spotlight this week as the Aztec football team travels to Tucson to meet the U. of Arizona in a game regionally televised by ABC-TV.

It will televised in its entirety in San Diego and the Rocky Mountain Regions with the West Coast joining the Aztecs and Wildcats at the conclusion of the Alabama-Nebraska telecast.

Kickoff is 12::20 p.m. with Al Michaels calling the play and Lee Grosscup doing the color.

Channel 10 will carry the game in San Diego.

S.D. State brings a 1-0 record into the game after an opening game win over Fullerton State, 34-17. A crowd of 41,066 in San Diego Stadium saw the Aztecs score on the first scrimmage play of the season with Ronnie Smith going 74 yards on an end around.

The Aztec offense clicked to the tune of 459 yards total offense in the opener with 248 yard passing and 211 yards rushing. San Diego's defense held Fullerton to 298 yards total offense.

Joe Davis, who had a disappointing season last year, started at quarterback for the Aztecs and completed 15 of 27 passes for 154 yards and three scores. Aztec running back David Turner played only in the first half and had 76 yards on 11 carries. He was forced to leave the game with bruised ribs.

Smith had the biggest night of any San Diego player with 74 yards rushing and a TD, 52 yards on a pass completion and 56 yards and two TD's on four pass receptions.

Arizona wasn't as fortunate as the Wildcats dropped a 21-10 decision to Auburn. The Auburn defense held Arizona to just 177 yards total offense on 61 plays. Auburn, meanwhile, rolled up 332 yards total offense on 73 plays.

"The Arizona game is tremendously important to us," said Aztec coach Claude Gilbert. "Millions of people will see us on television and we'll have the chance to prove we have a good football team. We've been trying not to think too much about Arizona because we had to play Fullerton first, but the time has arrived to put our full attention on Arizona.

"Overall I was pretty darn pleased with our effort against Fullerton. There were some moments in the third quarter when we lost our intensity, however. We can't afford to do that against Arizona. We have to stay on top of our game and I think we can play all four quarters with intensity."

Baseball Record Believed Made

Dear Mr. Guinness:

Try this in your record book.

Danny Milsapp, San Diego's premier fight promoter, did it on Labor Day as part of a Muscular Dystrophy fund-raising affair at Presidio Park.

Milsapp, now 58, and who has pitched more than 5,000 softball games in the past 50 years, offered to pitch against all-comers if the batter dropped a dollar in the barrel for MD. In addition, Danny would add $5 for each ball knocked over the fence a short 220 feet away.

Here's what he did:

Pitched 6 consecutive hours of fast-pitch softball taking only two 5-minute breaks
Pitched 101 innings
Faced 303 batters
Made 1,118 pitches
606 were balls
512 were strikes
Struck out 76
Walked 4
Hit 1 batter
Allowed 3 runs, one a homer
Wore out 3 catchers
Had only 3 infielders and two outfielders.

Milsapp quit when blisters on his fingers made the control of the ball impossible. The sealed money container was turned over to MD officials.

He says he'll better that record in next year's MD campaign.

Lakers Hold Camp At University SD

The first week of training camp for the Los Angeles Lakers 1977-78 season will be held at the U. of San Diego, Lakers general manager Bill Sharman has announced.

The San Diego camp will run from Tuesday, September 20 until Monday, September 26 with 2 practice sessions each day 9:30-11:30 a.m. and 5:30-7:30 p.m.

All but one practice session is closed to the public, that being the 5:30-7:30 p.m. session, Wednesday, September 21.

Lakers head coach Jerry West will bring 17 players to camp includin newcomers Jamaal Wilkes and Ernie D'-Gregorio. Last year the Lakers finished with the best win percentage in the western division of the NBA only to lose to eventual champions, the Portland Trailblazers.

West will attend Tuesday's meeting of the Sportscasters/Sportswriters luncheon in the Stadium Sports club.

'Death Match' On Wrestling Card Tuesday

If he shows up Friday—and he's been the will-o-the wisp of local boxing for most of the year, Jose "Speedy" Gonzales will be one of the most entertaining boxers on the Coliseum card Friday at 8:15 p.m.

Gonzales, who taught Manuel Lujan he'd have to do better than he did in his fight with Gonzales, gave Lujan a sound thrashing early this year. Fortunately, Lujan's state featherweight title was not at stake. Gonzales is earning a reputation as a "no show" and the State Boxing Commission has said that he fights no more until he satisfies a contract with the Coliseum.

Friday, Gonzales meets Ignatio "Negro" Campos, the Tijuana flash who believes he can be the state featherweight champion if given the opportunity to prove it. His fight with "Speedy" will test that theory.

A lesson may be learned on the same card by Sammy Mesa when he meets "Irish" Spud Murphy, a popular and hard-hitting 18-year old featherweight who is just beginning to emerge as a contender over whom some of the battlers must win if they want to go up the ladder. Murphy has a better chance on the ladder than some of the contenders. He's young, hard hitting and local. He's also very popular.

Leni Vanasi of Samoa, a ligt heavy meets Gene Miera in one of the four other bouts on Tuesday's card.

Unlimited Hydro in 4-Day Test

Qualifying heats for unlimited hydroplanes gets under way today with heats ending at 5 p.m. Friday qualifying continues from 9 a.m. until all have been run.

Final heats will be run Sunday. Best views of the events are from Fiesta Island, E. Vacation Island and Crown Point Shores. Guided pit tours will be made all days with a shuttle bus running from parking areas to the pits.

More than 100,000 persons will be attracted to the 4-day event.

Activities start about noon each of the days with Beach Party on E. Vacation Island Saturday 6:30-9 p.m. A full day of special events starts Saturday 8 a.m.

Bill Muncey, of La Mesa, is a favorite to win the Sunday test. So far this year he has won six unlimited events. Old Ox, owned by Bob Paynes, is the first San Diego sponsored boat to make the run in recent years.

The event is sponsored by Jack in the Box with all proceeds going to Boys' Clubs of San Diego.

'Speedy' To Fight at Coliseum

Special matches with special rules are on tap Tuesday when professional wrestlers get into the ring at San Diego's Coliseum in downtown San Diego.

The major event is a Mexican Death Match between Chavo Guererro and Black Gordman. There will be no referee to protect the antagonists so anything goes.

In another oddment listed as a "contract vs. contract" match, Big Bad John and Victor Rivera will fight for each other's contract. The loser, of course, will become indentured to the other. We call it "slavery."

Then there's a 3 plus 3 plus 3 match. Three wrestlers will be at ringside. Two are in the ring at the time. The winner stays in the ring and meets the next wrestler. The eventual winner is the one who wins 2 falls in a row. That makes it 3 plus 3 plus 3? Those perpetration the bout includes Killer Brooks, Great Goliath and Bill Ash.

There is another bout but the wrestlers for it are yet to be named.

The gong sounds at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. The Coliseum is at 15th and E sts.

sheriff.

"We should work as a team without ulterior motivation." said Bailey. "We should get on with the business of serving the citizens. We can't operate as a 4-man council (with one man using his position to get political attention)."

Councilman Dell Lake said "There is no issue here. It is a cheap shot (at the mayor) to gain publicity. Later he said he would support those against whom Doherty would run for sheriff.

Councilman Burns indicated his distaste for the issue and for the manner in which it was presented. "It is a non-issue," he said. Mayor Dorman said it was a political issue and refused to make an argument of it.

Some of the audience appeared confused as to the reason Doherty took issue with a school board matter.

Doherty didn't respond to statements of the other council members.

as its president. The chamber is alive and well today. He is a 28-year member of the L.G. Lions club and its past president. His club has won national awards for community service.

In earlier days, through the board of supervisors, he developed zoning plans and set-back regulations which allowed for a multi-lane thoroughfare and an attractive appearance in the business community.

When crime began to spawn in the early days of the growing city, V.J. convinced the board of supervisors that Lemon Grove was the proper site for a justice of peace court. He knew that such a court required a full-time constable. The court was approved and the constable, in reality, became the first L.G. police department.

He was organizer of the L.G. Fire District. Over the years the district enjoyed one of the lowest fire protection tax rates in the county. Tax rates, of course, are based on efficiency and capability of the department.

There were other contributions made by the Dorman family but the above are significant enough to explain why Jim Dorman feels impelled to serve the community.

It is our guess that his law practice loss is 50 times more than the stipend that is given to serving on the dual posts he now holds. And no one has accused him of using his effort as a political ladder.

And while this writer is making these observations regarding city council and school board, it should be noted that both Doherty and Spisak, who are employed by the SD PD, wear sidearms as they sit at their respective elected posts in Lemon Grove. When they doff their jackets their sidearms are exposed.

I, for one, feel intimidated, These men were elected to represent L.G. citizens in specific areas — not as police employees.

If there isn't a law which bans the display of firearms in such service, there ought to be. And if there is no law to the contrary, they could carry their guns in the brief cases which they both carry to meetings. Spisak said he carries his gun in his attache or keeps it covered by his jacket.

The bombing apparently had an effect on the mourners. The 200-300 cycles expected turned out to be 5.

The bodies were transported to Mt. Hope for burial after approval by family members. The bodies were placed — one in a 20-year old station wagon and the other in a blue van — in the only mortuary vehicles not damaged in the blast. Motorcycle police escorted the small caravan to the cemetery. Three Mongols rode in the van. The caskets were lowered side by side. Mongols took shovels at graveside and covered over the caskets. Cemetery workers completed the work and replaced the turf.

Dusk was falling as the small caravan left.

Speculation Grows

Speculation as to the reason for the shooting deaths continues. Police claim they do not know why the hostilities started or by whom. Members of the Mongols declined to give answers.

Non-member acquaintances of Morris said he had been attempting to resign from the Mongol organization. He once told a friend that resigning was "like signing a death warrant". Morris had also told friends that he was secretary of the group and had nearly 2 years to stay in the club before he could "retire".

Smith was said to have been sergeant-at-arms for the group, but this could not be corroborated.

The Morrises residence is in Spring Valley at 9720 Apple st.

Morris was arrested less than a year ago when police raided the Mongol's clubhouse near Lakeside. He was charged with assault on a police officer, he told friends. He faced a year in prison but had appealed and the appeal had not been heard.

Ironically, if he had served his sentence, he would have been in prison, alive, on Labor Day.

pone a county counsel written conflict of interest code. School Trustee James Dorman informed the Board many school districts had appealed these codes developed by the County's legal staff in favor of developing their own.

The Board also approved operating policies, procedures and schedules for the 1977-78 school year.

Also approved was a mandatory document which states the District has available space for any new students which would move into a new Imperial "80" subdivision in the Monterey Heights area. From information released by Assistant Superintendent Jim Justeson, the Lemon Grove District is currently experiencing an enrollment drop.

'Teach-in' Designed For Area Den Mothers

"Unusual Craft Ideas for Den Mothers and/of Girl's Leaders" is one of over 40 classes to be previewed at the Bazaar del Mundo Fall 1977 Teach-In Saturday, 11-3 p.m. Taught by Kay Whitcomb, the new class is full of projects to keep energetic troops and tribes entranced.

Starlight Ballet 'Grace, Beauty'

All of the grace and beauty of a ballet was visible last week when the S.D. Ballet presented Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream" in Balboa Park's Starlight Bowl.

Theatre goers are familiar with the play, in which a characer, Puck, mixes up as much as he helps in the play-in-a-play fantasy.

The dance-story has Oberon, King of the Fairies in a quarrel with his wife Titania, his Queen who has fallen in love with another.

There is a wedding of the Duke of Theseus with Hypolyta, Queen of the Amazons.

Two other amorous couples suffer in the mixup when Puck uses love potions on the wrong people.

The ballet corps was well trained and enjoyable. Mendelsson wrote the music. He did the overture at 17 in 1826 and completed the works 17 years later under a commision from the King of Prussia.

The next play will be "Giselle", first performed as a Royal Ballet 125 years ago. It will be on Starlight's stage November 11, 12.

Third Quarter Tax Payment Due to IRS

LOS ANGELES — Today is the deadline for many individual taxpayers and corporations to pay the third quarterly installment on their 1977 income taxes.

Corporations operating on a calendar-year basis for tax purposes must also make their third quarterly payment of 1977 income taxes by today.

The provision in the law for individual taxpayers to pay estimated tax in four equal installments means that 75% of the 1977 tax should be paid by today, using declaration-voucher number three from the IRS Form 1040-ES package, which is available at all the agency's local offices.

Corporation tax payments should be accompanied by IRS Form 503, "Federal Tax Deposit, Corporation Income Taxes," and deposited in authorized commercial banks or Federal Reserve Banks.

91 Leave Welfare Aid In Ceremonies Tomorrow

Some 91 welfare recipients will take a giant step tomorrow towards becoming self-supporting members of the community.

The 91 trainees have successfully completed the Employment Services Program (ESP) operated by the County Department of Public Welfare. Graduation ceremonies will be held by the Department at 1:30 p.m. on the west lawn of the County Administration Center on Pacific Highway.

The trainees are predominately mothers who are single heads of households and have been receiving Aid to Families with Dependent Children. The trainees have undergone three months of counseling and pre-employment education at the Center City Adult and Skill Center, followed by three months of work-site experience at one of the 23 general hospitals in the metropolitan area of San Diego.

They have been trained as nurse aides, ward clerks, dental assistants, occupational and recreational therapy aides, dietary aides, medical record clerks, medical transcriptionists, general office clerks, accounting and purchasing clerks, and in housekeeping and food service.

The ceremonies mark the 10th anniversary of the program and is the 75th graduation ceremony. Over its ten year history some 3,254 trainees have graduated and some have gone into full-time employment with general hospitals and other health related institutions. This past year the program established a 92 percent placement rate, which is the highest in the history of the program.

Featured speakers at the event will be Jim Bates, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors and Dr. Arnold Munoz, deputy director, Department of Benefit Payments, Sacramento.

ESP is an inter-agency agreement between the County Welfare Department, the Adult Education Division of the San Diego Community Colleges and the Hospital Council of San Diego County and its 23 cooperating hospitals.

The employed graduates of the program have earned more than $49 million in the past 10 years in the local economy and this has resulted in welfare savings of some $28 million.

The total County costs have been under $5 million for the 10 year period. The program is regarded both from the State and Federal level to be one of the most cost effective and successful programs for the disadvantaged in the nation.

Concern for Park

Dear Editor:

My children and I had some questions on our minds as we read about the Spring Valley Park in your paper many times.

What we want to know is what is going to happen to Mt. Vernon Park? We pass it every day and the questions from my children are, are they going to install play equipment? Will there be benches, and fireplaces?

It is within walking distance from our house but there is nothing for us to walk to.

L.G. City Councilman Robert F. Burns told the council on September 7 that he was in the process of getting together a committee to concern itself with Lemon Grove's recreation and human services. When his committee is named, you will be able to get answers from it. Editor

TV Cops Refuted

Editor:

Many recent novels, films, and television shows have characterized police officers as a breed apart, alienated by their exposure to the worst aspects of our society.

We have been portrayed as callous and disaffected loners who can relate only to other police officers.

I deplore such portrayals.

First, these charaterizations hinder our ability to work with our fellow citizens on the problems of crime. As we learn, more and more, that crime is not solely a police problem but one that will respond best to joint attack, to community resistance as a whole, we must counter the image of police as other than full members of their communities.

Second, in spite of the nature of the police profession and its constant exposure of man's inhumanity to his fellow man, the overwhelming majority of police officers are not cynics.

They are full participating members of their communities who have families, homes, a stake in the community.

The involvement of police officers is impressive — a trooper in Missouri serving as president of the local Lions Club and Shriners, an Ohio officer officiating as chairman of an American Heart Association chapter, members of the largest police department in the world hosting Christmas parties for neighborhood children.

There are aspects of police service unique to our profession that can engender feelings of separation from the rest of the community, however.

Police are those designated by society to enforce its rules of conduct.

Today, many of those rules affect all citizens, not just the hardcore criminal element.

This fosters an adversary relationship, which is reinforced by the adversary nature of our legal system.

The constant threat of physical attack is another fact that sets police apart.

But disaffected loners? Hardly!

We are painted as such with too broad a brush.

I submit that our profession recognizes the potential for disaffection and that the ideals of service we can have, and do, override the pressures that would lead to alienation.

Sincerely,
Clarence M. Kelley
Director, F.B.I.

Remade Films Shown at G'mont

The art of remaking old classic motion pictures is the subject of a Grossmont Community College District Office of Community Education's series on movies — old and new.

The series is titled "Hollywood: Then and Now" and will open September 20 in the East County Performing Arts Center with the showing of the original "Frankenstein", circa 1933.

In contrast, the film "Young Frankenstein", produced by Mel Brooks in 1976 will be projected. The films begin at 2 and will be shown again at 8 p.m.

Other films scheduled during the series will be:

—"Sherlock Holmes" and "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes' Smarter Brother",

—the original "Three Musketeers" and the "Four Musketeers",

—musical shorts and newsreels of the 1930's along with the Oscar-winning "Cries and Whispers",

"Broadway Melody" of 1929 and "That's Entertainment, Part II",

—and "Naughty Marietta" projected with "Nashville".

The public is invited to attend and a $2 instructional materials fee will be charged for the series. Tickets are available at the door.

Ask Your C.H.P.

CHP Capt. C.M. Douglas

Last week's question dealt with standing in the lines at the local DMV to get a change of address on driver's licenses. Captain Douglas revealed change of address may be handled through the mail by picking up address cards from any DMV or CHP field office.

If you have a question, no matter how insignificant it may appear to you, ask it. It may save a citation — or even your life.

Write in care of this newspaper. You don't have to sign the letter and please allow at least three weeks for the reply to appear.

This Week's Question:

Recently when I was carrying some weeds and other trash to the dump I was stopped by the police because the trunk lid was up. He said that I couldn't see rear traffic because the trunk lid obscured my view. However, I have a rear view mirrow on the driver's side but I was told I should have one on both sides if my overhead rearview mirror was obscured.

This Week's Answer:

The law requires two useable mirrors. Since the opened trunk lid blocked the view through the inside rearview mirror, you only had one mirror. Relying on just the driver's side rearview mirror is hazardous as you cannot see vehicles directly to your rear or the right rear area.

It would be a good idea to purchase an inexpensive rearview mirror for the passenger side, for it surely wouldn't hurt, even if you didn't haul trash again. The extra mirror would offer greater visibility. Caution should be used at first for it will seem awkward using the extra mirror, but after a little practice it will be automatic.

Dog Poisoned in S.V.

Gaylene Trease Archer, of 600 Carlsbad st., Spring Valley, reported that her German shepherd had been poisoned. The 80 lb. animal did not run free. It and another dog were kept in a fenced area of her residence. The other dog is seriously ill, apparently from the same poisoner, he said.

Juvenile Crime Soaring

Tough New Juvenile Law Allows D.A. to Prosecute

A special juvenile court division has been created to handle new powers granted to District Attorneys by the California Legislature.

The law AB 3121 — the Dixon Bill, allows the District Attorney's office to prosecute some juvenile cases formerly handled only by judges in juvenile court.

District Attorney Ed Miller said his office formerly came into juvenile court only on the invitation of the judge.

The new law, which became effective January 1, allows the district attorney's office greater latitude in prosecuting cases and allows them to create special departments designed to handle juvenile cases.

Also included in the law were tough provisions for 16 and 17 year old felons. Sixteen and 17 year olds will now be tried in adult courts for serious crimes such as rape, murder, and armed robbery.

"The main reason for the law," said Miller, "was to offset the increase in serious crime by juveniles. It is a much tougher law which is designed to recognize the mammoth problem we have with the commission of crime by juveniles."

Miller said juveniles will first go to juvenile court where the "burden of proof" will be on the juvenile offender to prove the case should not go further.

Should this proof be insufficient, the case will be turned over to the District Attorney's office.

Miller said the percentage of crimes by juveniles has skyrocketed so much it took six months for the county to budget in enough funds for a full complement of deputy district attorneys to handle the case load.

Miller began the year with the new Juvenile Court Division understaffed by half.

"It took until July 1 for the Board of Supervisors to budget in enough for a full complement of deputies to fill the Division," the D.A. reiterated.

The new department has a total of 13 deputy district attorneys on its staff.

Second Rabid Bat Found in County

The second case of rabies this year in a bat has been confirmed by the veterinarian for the County of San Diego.

The bat was found in the backyard of Mr. and Mrs. Crawford, 3738 Palm ave., in San Diego. Crawford captured the bat by scooping it into a jar.

County Veterinarian Dr. H. C. Johnstone cautions people not to touch bats even if they appear to be dead. It may still have enough life to bite.

Seemingly dead bats should be pushed into a container with a stick and transported to the County Veterinarian's laboratory at 5555 Overland ave., Bldg. 4, in the Kearny Mesa area of San Diego. Office hours are 8 a.m.-5 p.m. weekdays.

There was a possibility of contact with the bat by the Crawford's dog. The dog had been vaccinated against rabies.

State law requires vaccinated animals to receive a booster and be observed for 30 days, usually at the owner's home. Unvaccinated animals, however, must be quarantined for six months or destroyed.

San Diego county is a rabies area and the law requires all dogs four months of age and over to be vaccinated against rabies. Revaccinations are required every two years. However, there are no similar requirements for cats.

Rabies vaccinations for cats and dogs may be obtained from any veterinarian. The County Animal Shelters provide rabies clinics on certain days throughout the week for dogs.

Max Evans Writing Book on M.H. Deer

Max Evans, author of the best-seller "The Rounders," has agreed to publish with Joyce Press, Inc., of San Diego, a book based on the "white deer" of Mission Hills, which became a San Diego legend during the 13 years it roamed within the city just a few feet from a busy freeway. The book will be published this fall.

Entitled "The White Shadow" it will be the 12th published novel for Evans, who has earned the following of a literary cult based on works including "One-Eyed Sky," "The Great Wedding" and "Hi Lo Country."

He is best known, though, for "The Rounders" which was made into an acclaimed movie starring Glenn Ford and Henry Fonda, and later into a television series.

"The White Shadow" will be a fictional work based on the life of the deer and the many human lives it affected during its wanderings in the Presidio Park area.

Besides being a writer, Evans, a who was born in Texas and now lives in New Mexico, has worked as a cowboy, professional hunter, artist, movie maker and actor. His novels reflect his love for the Southwest. His original manuscripts are in the archives of the University of Texas, and he is on the Board of Chancellors of the university.

It is Evans' first work offered by Joyce Press, publisher of "Abe and Me," by Jack Murphy; "Finsterhall of San Pasqual," "Eleven Albatrosses in My Bluebird Tree" and "Ghosts of Cabrillo Lighthouse," by John Sinor, and Don Coryell's biography, "Win With Honor."

Farm Costs Up

Bank of America has calculated the effects of the drought on California farmers, a calculation which may spell higher prices in the supermarket for consumers.

Bank spokesmen report California farmers stand to lose 14.1 per cent more this year than in 1976. Farm costs are at an all time high of $7.494 million, a five per cent increase over last year.

Farm expenses have risen an average of 10.2 per cent since 1971.

DMV Hours Studied

SACRAMENTO — The Department of Motor Vehicles is developing a new study on the possibilities of changing the office hours.

Based on studies done in 1976, the DMV found 72 per cent of the pubic believed the current hours were inadequate.

The study will attempt to find feasable Saturday office hours as well as early evening hours for DMV field offices.

Booklet Given By Home Federal

Visitors to Home Federal's new loan office, located at 1212 South 43rd street, Suite C, will receive a copy of BETTER HOMES AND GARDENS' HANDYMAN book. This home repair guide will be available through the month while supply lasts.

Agency manager Reese Jarrett will present a donation to Jean Porter of Southeast San Diego's Neighborhood House Real Estate Counseling Service. Linda Williams, Administrative Coodinator for the Real Estate Loan Division, will present a donation to Clarence Pendleton, Jr., of the Urban League.

Home Federal President Kim Fletcher, Executive Vice President Ted Young, Senior Vice President Bob Wills, and Vice President, manager of FHA/VA loans John McKnight and representatives of the real estate community will attend the opening.

The loan agency will be the first Home Federal office opened specifically to originate and process mortgage loans. It differs from customary loan departments because as agency manager, Jarrett will not only be accessible through the office, but will also take an active role in informing the community of available loan services. The loan agency will be offering FHA/VA, conventional and construction loans in addition to consumer loans which will include equity and home improvement loan services.

Home Federal is the seventh largest S&L in the nation, the third largest federally chartered.

Sparky is Loser

A patron, of a sort, entered Sparky's Cocktail Lounge at 1025 Elktelton blvd., Spring Valley, and left with 12 cases of beer, 20 sandwiches, a flashlight and $100 in coins.

The problem results from the fact he entered during the closed hours through a louvered window and left before the management showed up the next morning.

Sheriff's deputies are checking fingerprints.

Cranston Pushes Plan To Halt Baby Selling

Senator Alan Cranston (D., Calif.) has asked the Carter Administration to support birth-related Medicaid coverage for every needy pregnant woman and newborn infant "so that such women will be free to carry their pregnancies to term free of economic pressure."

In a letter to Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Joseph A. Califano Jr., Cranston noted that "young women who are pregnant and are unable to bear the cost of carrying their pregnancies to term are frequently forced either to deal with black market baby-sellers or to resort to abortion".

Cranston urged the Administration to formulate an amendment to title XIX of the Social Security Act that would establish a uniform federal standard under which the costs of pre-natal, natal and post-partum care for any needy woman would be covered by Medicaid.

The major federal program now covering those services (for very low-income women only, however) is Aid to Families with Dependent Children. But a needy woman who is pregnant for the first time is not eligible for such aid because she does not yet have any dependent children.

Cranston characterized this as "a tragic Catch 22 that harms both mother and child and should be corrected".

Cranston, who is Senate Majority Whip, is chairman of the Human Resources Subcommittee on Child and Human Development.

Moped Accident Rise Worries Highway Patrol

SACRAMENTO — As the popularity of the motorized bicyle, or moped, climbs — so do the traffic accidents involving these vehiles.

According to California Highway Patrol Commissioner Glen Craig, moped accidents have jumped so much in the past seven months, the department has had to create a new category for vehicle accident reports.

Craig said some 300 injuries have resulted from moped accidents across the state just in the first seven months of this year.

"The pattern (of the accidents) is similar to bicycle accidents," Craig said. "More occur in the urbanized areas where right of way confusion produces conflicts."

The worst place in the state to ride a moped is in the Santa Ana area. The Santa Ana CHP district reported ten accidents involving mopeds.

There have been no fatalities as yet with the new mode of transportation but CHP has broken down the accidents into those which occur in the city as compared to those in unincorporated areas.

In the city, some 260 moped accidents have occurred as compared to 40 in unincorporated areas.

Metrics Made Easy In El Cajon Class

Adults may learn all they'll need to know about the modern metric system at the El Cajon Adult Center.

John H. Corbett, vice-president of the U. S. Metric Assn. will explain the modern metric system in a series of five Thursday evening meetings, beginning tonight.

"The modern metric system is easy!" says Corbett. "There's no need to convert back and forth between the two systems. No need for complex arithmatic . . . or memorizing conversion factors! Anyone who can make change for a dollar already knows the basic principle."

There are no entrance requirements. Register this evening, in the classroom: Room 37 in the El Cajon Adult Center, Madison and Mollison, El Cajon. Meeting begins at 7 p.m. Registration is $2.

Rate Increase Deemed Overcharge

PUC Mistake Will Refund $7.5 Million on Phones

LOS ANGELES — Pacific Telephone must give back some $7.5 million it has collected since January 5, 1976 due to overcharging allowed by the California Public Utilities Commission.

The PUC granted the phone company a $65.5 million rate increase in late December of 1975 based on miscalculations it made.

The Commission now admits it made an error in estimating the intrastate revenues for the telephone company.

The City of San Diego appealed the rate increases to the PUC in early February of this year. The final hearing on the case was held September 7.

From an investigation of the intricate rate scale used by Pacific Telephone, the PUC found they had goofed in estimating phone company revenue.

"Upon rehearing and reconsideration we find that we were in error," a spokesman for the PUC said.

As a result of the decision, Pacific Telephone must refund to telephone renters $7.5 million plus interest from January 5, 1976.

Pacific Telephone is currently developing a refund plan which must be submitted to the commission by mid-October.
